Cheat Sheet

I am allowing a cheat sheet for this exam, however it will be a very specific process. On Tuesday (January 26th) you will receive a piece of paper in class (letter size) that I have signed and written your name on. You will only receive one sheet and if you lose it, you will lose your opportunity to have the cheat sheet for the exam. You may only write on the side of the page that I have signed.

When you arrive at the exam, I will check that you:

- a) Have the page that I initially provided you
- b) Have only written on the one side (the side with your name)

If you have met these requirements, it is yours to use for the exam. If you have not, I will take it away and you will not have any resources for the exam.

On Tuesday you will have time to begin preparing your cheat sheet. Thus I suggest you go through your notes and print any needed information (that you have lost or were not in class for/didn't catch up on) prior to Tuesday.

Part A: Anthropologist, Psychologist, or Sociologist? /15

Exam Instructions: Determine who would ask the following questions by putting an A for Anthropologist, P for Psychologist, or an S for Sociologists in the space provided beside the question. One mark for each correct answer.

You will not be provided with these questions ahead of time. If you have an understanding of what each discipline is about, you will be able to connect the question to the correct discipline.

Part B: Matching /15

Exam Instructions: Match the term on the left with the description on the right by putting the corresponding number beside the description. One mark for each correct answer

The list below is all of the terms in this section of the exam (thus if you know the definitions for each, you will have no problems with this part of the exam.

Bipedalism, Culture, Extroversion, Folkway, Fossil, Id, Introversion, Microsociology, Multiculturalism, Nature, Norms, Projection, Sapienization, Status, Taboo

Part C: Short Answer /53

Exam Instructions: For each question the number of marks will be indicated in brackets at the end of the question. You will be marked on correctness and completeness of your answer.

The list below identifies the topics included in this portion of the exam, based on the discipline that each is associated with.

Anthropology /16

- Schools of thought (2)
- Gender and sex
- Expendability theory
- Ethnocentrism
- Lucy

Psychology /19

- Key questions
- Twin studies (problems with them)
- Id, Ego, and Superego in popular culture
- Maslow's hierarchy / basic needs
- Introvert / extrovert (what are you and why)

Sociology /18

- Rehabilitation
- Communication (men and women as different, three examples)
- Evolution of dating (differences, generally, over time)
- Gender roles (girls / impact)
- Gangs (joining)

Part D: Paragraph Answer /20

Exam Instructions: Choose two of the following paragraph answers. You be marked out of 10 for paragraph structure/format, and explaining your three points.

You will not be provided with these questions in advance. There are three choices all of which you have examined in class already and/or are opinion based.

GOOD LUCK!

I believe that you can all be very successful on this exam with some preparation. I hope this review helps you to focus your preparations and complete the cheat sheet. If you are missing any information the best resource will be my website www.schad.weebly.com, please consult this before asking me for any notes or information that you cannot find in your binder.
